Toyota F86 / Subaru BRZ Rear Differential Mount Bushings

SuperPro has developed and released a superior bushing to control the Differential in this popular performance car. The O.E rubber bushing suffers from excessive movement that leads to angular changes in the driveline and power loss. The SuperPro bushings keep the differential properly aligned to prevent this issue and deliver the power to the ground!

Product Features:

- Light-weight Aluminium centre provides additional support to a bonded polyurethane outer bushing.
- Castellated outer bushing shape to provide voiding and eliminate unwanted NVH.
- SuperPro have adopted a design without an outer shell for ease of fitment
- Available in a "Comfort" option for street use and a "Performance" option for the track or high powered vehicles.
- Perfectly matched to all other SuperPro bushings for the BRZ.
